

So Many Americans

have announced that they are writers, poets,
and other artists, the only honorable course

is to deny it.

I don't play
the harmonica either.